To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my recommendation for Conductor Power and Zahn Power Group as an outstanding partner in the EPC industry. Burns and McDonnell has partnered with Conductor Power on numerous projects, and I can attest to their exceptional level of professionalism, dedication, and commitment to excellence.

Conductor Power has played a crucial role in ensuring the success of our projects, but what stands apart is their willingness to support and provide invaluable assistance on proposals and budgetary estimates. Conductor Power consistently goes above and beyond in their service to us. Their proactive approach, attention to detail, and willingness to go the extra mile have greatly contributed to the seamless execution of many of our projects. Whether it involves resolving unforeseen challenges or accommodating last-minute changes, Conductor Power has always demonstrated a willingness to adapt and prioritize our needs.

I have every intention of continuing to engage Conductor Power's services and endorse them as a trusted and reliable partner in the EPC industry. Their expertise, transparency, and dedication to serve sets them apart. I am certain you will find Conductor Power to be an outstanding partner in your EPC endeavors.

Sincerely,

Quinn Impola
